Dear Family,

You won't believe what I did at the North Pole last night! Before I flew back home to you, some of my Scout Elf Friends and I ran the Crazy Candy Cane Obstacle Course. It is quite a challenge—the Scout Elf to run the course the fastest wins!

First, I moved across a tiny balance beam made of candy canes. Then, I crossed an ice pond by swinging from 10 candy canes. Finally, I climbed to the top of a pine tree and hit the candy cane buzzer.

We're still waiting on the results, but I'll update you if I make the leaderboard. Either way, I had a BLAST. Maybe you could create your own mini Christmas obstacle course and see who in your family completes it the fastest. Good luck!

Love,
Your favorite Scout Elf

Dear Family,

Santa is always adding names to his nice list! Besides creating silly scenes or finding unique hiding spots one of my jobs is to watch for good behavior. Every night when I fly back to the North Pole, I report to Santa the kind deeds you have done.

I always say, "Kindness is contagious, so whenever you can, be kind to someone!" Share your toys, help tidy the kitchen or draw a picture for someone who is sad. I can't wait to see all the great ideas you come up with!

Love,
Your favorite Scout Elf

Dear Family,

Knock, knock! Who's there? Me! I'm here! I'm back for the Christmas season and I'm super-duper excited. I've missed you so much this year and I've been very busy at the North Pole. The Scout Elves and I have had so many snowball fights, and guess what? I won some of them. I've been practicing my aim!

I can't wait to spend time together this Christmas season. Don't forget to look for me each morning—I've got some cool hiding spots and funny surprises planned. Get ready for the best holiday yet!

Dear Family,

Can you believe it? Only 12 days left until Santa Claus comes! Have you written a letter to Santa yet? Don't forget I can deliver any letter you write. I've been reporting to Santa every night about the kind deeds I've seen your family doing. Keep up the great work!

There may only be 12 days left until I return to the North Pole, but don't worry. I have plenty more surprises planned. Tell me your favorite moment so far. I can't decide! I'm glad we still have some more time to hang out together!

Dear Family,

I hope you've been having an extravaganzalorious day! I There are so many fun holiday moments to look forward to. You can visit a Christmas tree farm, bake Christmas desserts, build a snowman and more! Speaking of a snowman, I have a joke. Why was the snowman searching through a bag of carrots? Because he was picking his nose! Ha, ha!

Anyway...I know your family has been busy this year doing all your favorite activities together. You should draw me a picture of your favorite Christmas tradition. I would love to see it!

Dear Family,

The Elves at the North Pole will be loading the sleigh with presents in no time, and Santa will be departing for his annual Christmas Eve flight. I can't believe how quickly it's approaching! If you haven't written your wish list, you can write it and leave it beside me. I'll bring it to Santa tonight!

Before you get new presents, look at what you have and see if you can donate something to a local charity. It's a sweet gesture! I know you're going to love what Santa brings this year.

Dear Family,

The day has come. Tonight is Christmas Eve! I'm so excited and I know you are, too! But it also means I will be flying back to the North Pole with Santa. I can't believe it's already time. Spending the season with you all has been SO much fun. I found some great hiding spots, I set up some funny scenes and we did lots of fun Christmas activities together. Now, it's time for me to travel back to the North Pole.

I'll be busy preparing for next year and I'll think of you all often. I know you'll stay busy with school and seeing your friends. Remember to continue being kind even after Christmas is over and think back on all the fun times we shared until I get to see you again soon!
