- Prompt: "Show me your 'I made a mistake' face. Now show me your 'I made it right' face."

Connect to skills:

- Self-awareness: recognizing wants and feelings;
- Social awareness: considering how others feel;
- Relationship skills: sharing and making amends;
- Responsible decision-making: taking responsibility for choices.

Episode Touchpoints

- The Squad discovers that the North Pole's Halloween candy is missing and follows colorful candy-wrapper clues.
- Little Grunt admits he hid the candy and works with his friends to return it so everyone can enjoy trick-or-treating.

Talk & reflect (after viewing):

- "How did the elves feel when they couldn't find any candy?" (Name feelings such as disappointment and surprise.)
- "Why did Little Grunt decide to help find the candy?" (Explore empathy and making things right.)
- "How do you feel when you share something with a friend?" (Connect sharing with positive experiences.)

Try-it-together Activities

- Sharing surprise: Give your child a small collection of pretend treats or toys. Practice dividing them so everyone gets some. (Builds generosity and awareness of others.)
- Candy color hunt: Hide colored paper "candy" around the room. Work together to find and sort the pieces by color. (Encourages cooperation and observation.)
- Making-it-right practice: Use stuffed animals to act out a simple mistake, such as taking a toy without asking. Practice saying sorry and finding a way to help. (Develops responsibility and relationship repair.)
